

To the Honorable Martin Glenn:

My life savings are on Celsius (3 Bitcoin and 10 Ethereum). It took me years after a ruinous divorce to make the money to purchase my Crypto and a whole year of researching the best place to put it. Like all the others I believed Alex Mashinsky was an honest man. I was deceived.

My only request is that we the individual investor that trusted Celsius with our hard earned life savings get our crypto back in its pre-freeze quantity and exact type. I have little interest in the current dollar value of my BTC and ETH. I put them on Celsius for the long haul so getting them back as deposited is my only goal. It's fine if that takes 5-10 years. I'll wait.

One other note...Simon Dixon has both a plan and track record for saving and rebuilding broken crypto entities like Celsius. If anybody has a chance of making us whole it's him. He gets my vote for taking over. Thank you your honor.

Matthew Whittington
Regular working guy